HCCA

The Third Annual National Congress on Health Care Compliance continues the national dialogue on the ongoing governmental and private sector enforcement initiatives sweeping health care finance and delivery. The nation's leading health care regulators and prosecutors from the Department of Health and Human Services, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Health Care Financing Administration, the Federal Trade Commission, the Securities and Exchange Commission, various United States Attorneys General's Offices and the Department of Justice will describe in detail current and future health care enforcement initiatives. Leading compliance professionals, including attorneys, consultants and compliance officers, will articulate responsive strategies and share benchmarks for best practices compliance programs.

Over the past year, the pace of health care enforcement initiatives and responsive compliance efforts has continued to increase. A number of prominent qui tam cases have been unsealed. Numerous large health care enterprises, both investor-owned and nonprofit, have entered into substantial monetary settlements and executed corporate integrity agreements. The Third Annual Congress will report on all the important governmental and private sector cooperative and confrontational issues.

During the new millennium, the issues facing the healthcare industry will be more challenging than ever. The ability to forecast industry changes is difficult. The Third Annual National Congress on Health Care Compliance is being planned to help you forecast, change and understand the answer to the question, "What is the future of the healthcare industry?"

The Congress will bring together governmental and industry experts to collectively tackle the issues which face the healthcare industry, and to help arm yourself and your organization to meet these challenges. You will find these answers through peer discussion, informative symposia, and the best compliance networking environment.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND THE CONGRESS

- Health Care senior executives and leaders, including CEOs and CFOs in hospitals, medical groups and IPAs, ancillary providers, long term care organizations and health plans
- Members of the board of trustees of Health Care enterprises
- Health Care compliance officers
- Health Care risk managers
- Health Care finance, patient accounts, coding, and billing specialists
- Physicians and other health professionals
- Health Care consultants and attorneys
- Health Care regulators
- Health Care journalists, researchers and policy makers
